In celebration of Black Music Month, we present ERAS, an immersive listening experience honoring the generations of Black artists whose creativity has shaped the soundtrack of American culture and influenced music around the world.

For decades, Black music has served as a vehicle for storytelling, resistance, joy, innovation, and self-expression. From country, jazz and blues to soul, funk, R&B, hip-hop, and beyond, each era has built upon the last, creating an ongoing musical conversation that continues through the art of sampling.

At ERAS, we'll journey through the decades by exploring iconic songs alongside the records that inspired them. Hear beloved tracks in conversation with their musical ancestors as we trace the lineage of Black artistry, influence, and innovation across generations.

Settle in with a curated menu of small bites, handcrafted cocktails, and classic board games as you and your guests experience Black history, culture, and creativity through sound. In our phone-free environment, distractions are left at the door, creating space to be fully present with the music, the stories behind it, and the people around you. Whether you're discovering a sample for the first time or revisiting a classic,

ERAS´ invites you to listen more deeply to the music that has shaped the world.
